

Paddock Construction Company

Testimonials

"Working with Barry and his team at Paddock Construction was a great experience. Barry's expertise on the design work, and his ability to take our vision and convert it into a beautiful home, made the planning process easy and efficient. During the entire construction phase his team worked hard to guide us through each decision, and he was both thoughtful and helpful as he worked with us to make our dream a reality. Considering our project was done while we were living in England, we relied on his team to be proactive and maintain a solid line of communication throughout the project. He managed the project expertly and both his schedule and timeline were accurate. Most importantly all his sub-contractors did a fantastic job and I felt as though they really took pride in the house they had a part in building. Thanks to everyone for our beautiful home!

Barry Paddock and Bob Deel make a fantastic team and it is clear that they both take great pride in their work and enjoy helping people build beautiful homes. They are always available for discussion and not only are they both good listeners but they are also willing to provide suggestions drawing on many years of knowledge and experience. They knew exactly what we were looking for, and the two-way dialogue made it easy to trust them and know that the finished product would look just as we had envisioned it.

Paddock Construction has a great reputation and it is well deserved. His design ability made it easy to work with one person to design and build. The process was efficient and start-to-finish we had an amazing home in a little less than a year. The team he assembled and the quality of their workmanship was excellent and we're very proud of our new house."

- Tucker Jones